Creators

The Creators at Blue Wave design websites and apps that can be ordered directly through the Creator app, Blue Wave's project estimation tool.

The Creator app is also available to our customers as a business logic app to create customer generated estimates and invoices for services and products directly through the customers' websites.

Advisors

Blue Wave now offers Advisors our unique knowledge management app Overview, to rate their users and give feedback in a powerful calendar interface in real time. Overview is also available as a platform with its easy to use API to power our clients' knowledge-based apps.

Blue Wave also offers our own Advisory Services in business strategies, marketing, sales, and design, completely for free.

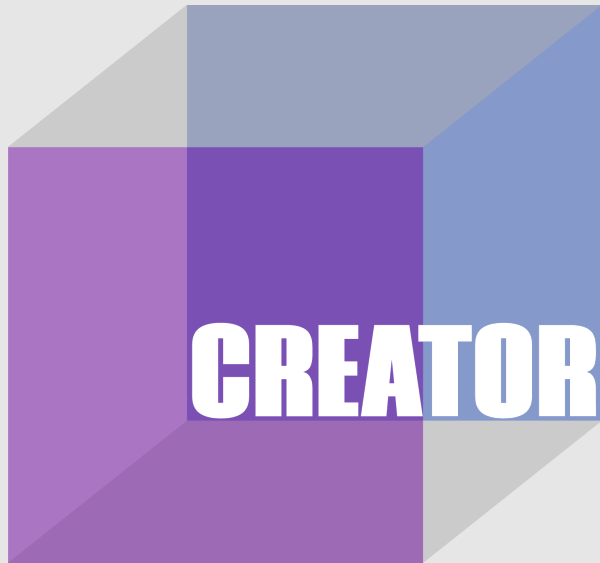

Blue Wave's Creators design both custom coded and WordPress websites which can easily be ordered through the Creator app.

The Creators at Blue Wave develop mobile and web apps made to order via the Creator app.

Creator App

Services can be hard to sell. A client often doesn't understand what they get and how much it costs. In comparison, a product is much easier to sell.

The Creator app by Blue Wave offers our customers the ability to simply turn their services into products with this unique cost estimation tool

The Creator package even includes a business logic Advisor to advise you on your modules pricing and descriptions.

Overview

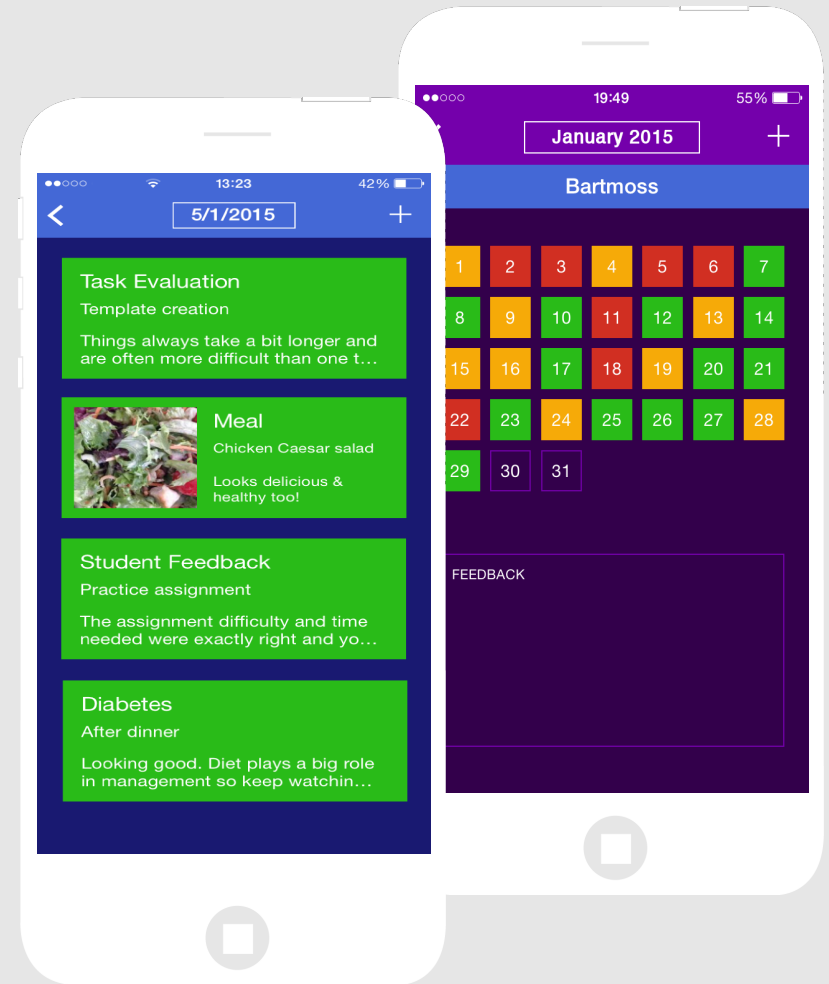

is the ultimate knowledge management app for Advisors.

It makes it easy for all Advisors; consultants, trainers, and coaches, to manage their clients from anywhere.

Overview allows Advisors to interact with their users, giving them advice, tips, feedback, and ratings in a colorful calendar interface instantaneously.

Overview uses an intuitive color-based rating system in addition to free-text-field feedback. Green is good, yellow is okay, and red is bad.

Simply create a custom template, and invite your Users to create new entries with your template. You can rate the entries, and give them immediate feedback on their progress.

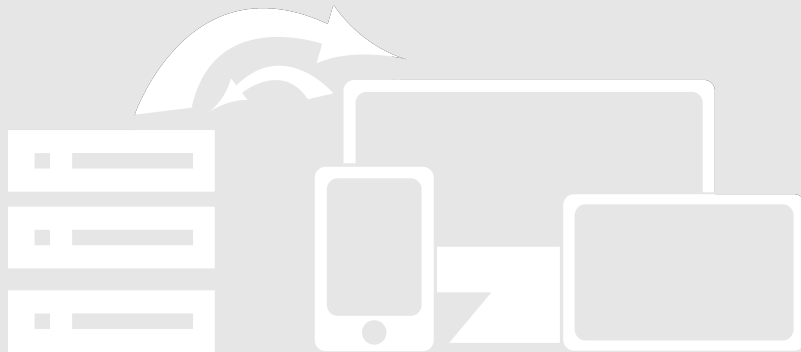

All the entries are sorted by date in the calendar. Days, weeks, months, all receive color ratings automatically from the entries' ratings. This truly gives both Advisor and User an Overview.

Overview Platform

Now Overview's API is also available for developing knowledge management client apps. Rating systems, feedback, forms, calendars, graphs, photos, PDFs, location and more can be filled out, tracked, processed, and stored on the Overview Platform.

Whether for fitness, consulting, training, or for enterprise, Overview Platform can be easily adapted to fit your needs.

Why bother with developing your own knowledge management backend, renting or building your own server, and deploying your own solution, when Overview Platform can do it for you.
